Spring Catalog 2016

ADULT LEARNING AT ITS BEST
WHAT IS OLLI AT BCC? The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Berkshire Community College (OLLI at BCC) is a membership-led organization committed to the idea that learning is a lifelong, multifaceted experience. OLLI offers courses, lectures, trips, and special events year-round designed especially by and for people 50 years old and up. Courses are given in Fall, Winter, Spring, and Summer semesters.

WHAT ARE THE COSTS? In order to register for OLLI courses, you must first become an OLLI member. The tax-deductible annual membership fee is $50 per person. Registration fees per semester are $45 for one course, $90 for two or three courses, and $100 for unlimited courses. The Distinguished Speakers Series is $10 per lecture for members. The cost for Special Events varies according to the event. Scholarships are available.

ARE THERE ANY SPECIAL DISCOUNTS FOR MEMBERS? OLLI has 36 Cultural Partners (see page 15) that offer programming support and, in many cases, discounts to our members. Visit www.BerkshireOLLI.org for details.

WHAT IS A FLEX PASS? For those members who take extended trips or live away from the Berkshires for part of the year, OLLI offers a convenient FLEX PASS. Pay $45 to access up to six different class sessions from the course offerings within a semester. Lottery and limited registration classes, as well as any course that reaches maximum capacity, are not open to Flex Pass holders.

HOW DO I REGISTER? You may register by phone, mail, and fax, or by hand delivering your registration form. (Online registration coming soon.) Complete the OLLI registration form and mail it with your check or credit card information to: OLLI at BCC, 1350 West Street, Pittsfield, MA 01201-5786. Our fax number is 413.443.1797. To register by phone or for further information, call the OLLI Office at 413.236.2190.

GREAT DECISIONS

M101

Mondays
9:30 – 11:00
BCC – Pittsfield
Susan B. Anthony Ctr, G10
April 11, 25
May 2, 9, 16
(No class April 18)
Five sessions

Held annually, Great Decisions is the country’s largest discussion program on world affairs. The Great Decisions program provides background information and policy options for a selection of the most critical issues facing the United States each year. Participants will watch short film presentations followed by lively discussion of the following global issues for 2016: Shifting Alliances in the Middle East, the Rise of ISIS, International Migration, the United Nations Post-2015, and Climate Geopolitics.

James Cotter, Moderator, B.S.E.E., University of Massachusetts; retired from Ordnance Department of General Electric Company and its successor companies; frequent OLLI moderator for “Today’s Headlines” and “Great Decisions” courses.

Suggested Readings: The Great Decisions 2016 Briefing Book, which is integral to the course but not mandatory, can be ordered from the Foreign Policy Association at www.fpa.org.

THE HISTORY OF GANGS

M102

Mondays
11:15 – 12:45
BCC – Pittsfield
Melville 211
*April 25
May 2, 9, 16
(No class April 11, 18)
Four sessions
*Note later start date

This course’s four sessions will explore the history of gangs and their evolution from street thugs to highly structured organizations. The different types of gangs (street, prison, motorcycle, etc.) and their organization, goals, and lifestyles will be explored.

William Sturgeon, M.A. in Criminal Justice Administration; over 40 years’ experience in criminal justice field; author, teacher/trainer, practitioner, expert witness, and internationally recognized criminal justice consultant; consulted in the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Haiti, the Republic of South Africa, and the Philippines; training in Mediation and Conflict Resolution at Harvard University School of Public Health.

SHAKESPEARE’S COMEDIES (Plus Romeo and Juliet)

M103

Mondays
2:00 – 3:30
BCC – Pittsfield
Koussevitzky 111
April 11, 25
May 2, 9, 16, 23
(No class April 18)
Six sessions

Shortly after Shakespeare began writing his history plays, he also embarked on comedy. During the mid- to late 1590s, he produced some of the best comic plays ever written, along with one significant tragedy, Romeo and Juliet, which some have called a comedy that took a tragically wrong turn! (We will take up the somber period of the tragedies next year.) Join us this spring to be touched, tickled, and occasionally quite moved as we delight for a brief interim in Shakespeare’s happier perspective on human existence. No experience necessary, but be advised that these plays were produced in a facility that contained nuts.

Richard Matturro, Ph.D. in English with a specialization in Shakespeare and Greek Mythology; a Rye, N.Y., native; spent 16 years at the Albany Times Union; has taught literature at UAlbany for 13 years; author of numerous newspaper articles and six novels.

Suggested Readings: Any editions; the Pelican paperback series is excellent and inexpensive. Class 1: A Midsummer Night’s Dream; class 2: Romeo and Juliet; class 3: The Merchant of Venice; class 4: Much Ado About Nothing; class 5: As You Like It; class 6: Twelfth Night.
ASPECTS OF JAZZ: Vocal Tradition, Rhythm, and Composition  M104

Presented by the Barrington Jazz Ensemble (Trice Atchison, Peter Coombs, Richard Evans, Ted Murray, Sam Rosen, and Roger Suters), this course will cover the jazz songbook, evolution of the rhythms that characterize jazz, and the complex relationship between jazz and composed music in the 20th century.

MAY 2 • Jazz has given birth to countless songs, many singers, and several styles of presentation. Our vocalist will describe and demonstrate these aspects of the vocal tradition from Bessie Smith to contemporary artists.

MAY 9 • Although melody and harmony count, it is rhythmic freedom that has characterized jazz. We will trace its origins from African American polyrhythms, marches, and rags of New Orleans through early swing, bop, cool, and the Latin rhythms that have established the unique flavor of jazz.

MAY 16 • Although jazz is considered a performer’s (or improvisational) art, many jazz musicians have composed fine music. An example is the work of pianist Bill Evans. The relationship between “classical” Western music and jazz is a fascinating aspect of this interplay. Examples from Ravel, Gershwin, Bernstein, Ellington, and Marsalis demonstrate the courage, as well as difficulty, of this “fusion.”

Richard Evans, pianist; retired psychiatrist; teacher, Einstein College of Medicine.
Trice Atchison, vocalist; studied voice with Vikki True, Maureen O’Flynn, and Wanda Houston.
Sam Rosen, guitarist; studied at Berklee School of Music, Boston; played at many local venues.
Roger Suters, bassist; retired from Elder Services of Berkshire County; member, Board of Trustees, Berkshire Music School.
Peter Coombs, percussionist; performs at local venues.
Ted Murray, saxophonist; plays with many local bands.

Course Descriptions  TUESDAY  SPRING 2016

THE BRIGHT AND DARK SIDES OF SOCCER  T101

This course will delve into the chain of events that led to the FIFA scandal and whether reforms are on the way. Other topics will include youth soccer; goalkeepers are unique, not crazy; how racism and national and ethnic prejudices affect soccer worldwide; has soccer arrived as a major sport in the United States, and will the men’s national team ever win the World Cup. Although the game of soccer will not be explained as in previous “Understanding Soccer” OLLI courses, there will be ample time for discussion on any topic of interest.

Alan Rubin, B.S. and M.S. in Metallurgical Engineering, Lehigh University; 1954 Middle Atlantic Conference All-East goalkeeper; volunteer soccer goalkeeper coach; Western Mass. representative for the New England Revolution and the Boston Breakers; currently manager, Just4Keepers in Western Mass.; NSCAA Level 1, 2, and 3 Goalkeeper Coaching certificates.

Suggested Readings: www.understandingsoccer.com and http://just4keepers.com/goalkeeper-coaching-in-western-ma/. Other materials will be distributed prior to and during the course.
TODAY’S HEADLINES T102

This course provides an opportunity to voice your opinions on national and international issues. Serving as a guide and provocateur, the moderator will explore selected topics drawn from a variety of newspapers and the Internet. Lively discussion is the centerpiece of this course.

Len Tabs, Moderator; M.B.A., Fairleigh Dickinson University; self-employed financial consultant; former Chief Financial Officer, Fortunoff companies; frequent OLLI moderator for “Today’s Headlines”; President of OLLI at BCC.

THEATER OUT LOUD: A Play-Reading Workshop T103

In this interactive class, participants will read and discuss short scripts of playwrights Arthur Miller, Tennessee Williams, Susan Glaspell, and Serafín and Joaquín Álvarez Quintero, as well as works by local playwrights Jesse Waldinger and Steven Somkin. We will also schedule visits by practicing area playwrights, directors, and actors on selected dates. REGISTRATION IS LIMITED TO 18.

Karel Fisher, B.S. in Anthropology, Columbia University; background in museum work; taught in Asia and Africa; acted, directed, and wrote for theater; conducted drama workshops; has taken part in various theater productions in the Berkshires.

Suggested Readings: All plays will be distributed in class.

GETTING HOOKED ON FLY FISHING T104

You will learn what you will need to get started in the art of fly fishing: equipment, process, how to cast, and how to present different types of flies to waiting fish. Discussions will cover the cost involved, fly-fishing knots, entomology, where to fish, and the importance of conservation to protect and preserve fisheries. Trout Unlimited’s Taconic Chapter will generously supply fly rods, reels, line, leaders, and flies for use during the classes. Sessions will include indoor practice and fly casting and fishing lessons from shore at nearby ponds such as Pittsfield’s Wild Acres and Cheshire Lake (location of first class will be provided to those registering). Women are especially encouraged to try out this contemplative outdoor sport. REGISTRATION IS LIMITED TO 12.

Trout Unlimited instructors include William Travis, Henry Sweren, Ben Wood, and others. All instructors have extensive fly-fishing experience in streams, rivers, ponds, and lakes from shore or wading and from watercraft.

Call for Photos of Autumn in the Berkshires

OLLI at BCC invites photographers to submit photos of autumn in the Berkshires for our fall catalog cover contest. Images should be color, high-resolution JPGs or TIFFs (at least 3 MB) and horizontally oriented. Submissions should be emailed to olli@berkshirecc.edu. The contest winner will have his or her photo featured on the cover of the Fall 2016 OLLI catalog and will receive a free one-year OLLI membership. Deadline for submissions is May 6.
Course Descriptions

WEDNESDAY

BEYOND PHOTOGRAPHY: Training Your Creative Eye!

Join local photographer Thad Kubis to enhance your photographic skills and improve your creative vision. Sessions will be held at different Berkshire locations, including Hancock Shaker Village, Bartholomew’s Cobble, and downtown Pittsfield (participants will be notified of class locations). Are you ready to understand and previsualize photographic composition techniques including framing, the rule of thirds, converging lines, and more? Then please join us. Smartphones welcome!

REGISTRATION IS LIMITED TO 12. Selection is by lottery. See page 14 for lottery directions.

Thaddeus B. Kubis, B.A., Visual Communication, UMass, Amherst; editorial photographer; marketing consultant; teaches marketing and sales promotion at Fashion Institute of Technology in New York City and graphic communications at New York City College of Technology (City Tech); published photobook of 12-day sailing trip from Barcelona to Rome.

LET’S GO BAJA! Geology and Natural History of a Wilderness Region

Few other regions the same size as Mexico’s Gulf of California offer the opportunity to explore the intricate web of nature that binds together so many different coastal ecosystems on such a dynamic scale. We will examine the tectonic birth of the gulf and its active hydrothermal springs. A range of ecosystems will be considered, including coral reefs, clam flats, algal rhodolith banks, sandy beaches, sand dunes, mangrove forests, and river deltas. The development of these ecosystems will be traced through the last six million years with particular attention to climatic fluctuations associated with glacial cycles and El Niño Southern Oscillation. Building and room location will be provided prior to the start of classes.

Markes E. Johnson, Ph.D. with advanced training in paleoecology, University of Chicago; Charles L. MacMillan Professor of Natural Science, Emeritus, Williams College; taught courses in historical geology and paleontology in the Geosciences Department, Williams College; awarded the Nelson Bushnell Prize for excellence in scholarship and teaching in 2011; author of three books on the geology of the Gulf of California; led numerous research and field expeditions to Baja California.

Suggested Readings: Markes E. Johnson, Off-Trail Adventures in Baja California, 2014; Markes E. Johnson and Jorge Ledesma-Vázquez, Gulf of California Coastal Ecology: Insight from the Present and Patterns from the Past, 2016.

VOICES FROM THE BERKSHIRE EDGE

The Berkshire Edge is the newest and fastest growing publication for the Berkshire region. It reports online, regularly and in depth, news and views worth sharing in the Berkshires. In this course, six contributors step off the screen and share their views and perspectives on local issues. We’ll hear from Editor-in-Chief David Scribner, Publisher Marcie Setlow, and writers on a variety of subjects, including the changing media landscape of the Berkshires and around the world and how an online-only media outlet can be a source of both intelligent conversation and keen local observation.

David Scribner, editor-in-chief of The Berkshire Edge; writer, photographer, and journalist; former editor of The Berkshire Eagle in Pittsfield and The Middletown (Conn.) Press; most recently, spent four years as news editor of The Berkshire Record.

Marcie Setlow, publisher of The Berkshire Edge; worked in media more than 30 years; former Director of Program Development at New York’s PBS affiliate Thirteen/WNET and Vice President of National Program Marketing at the Pittsburgh PBS affiliate WQED; past President of New York Women in Film & Television.

Suggested Reading: The Berkshire Edge online at www.theberkshireedge.com.
Art is based on observation. This course is designed to sharpen your observation skills and develop an enhanced eye for art. No background knowledge of art is needed. Look carefully! What makes a work of art convincing? Participants working in pairs or slightly larger groups will be asked to carefully study artworks, exploring such things as the stories they tell, their meanings, their many techniques and styles of representation (i.e., reality versus imagination), and their similarities and differences. Instructors will provide relevant information to help in the observation process, and students will present their detailed observations to the group. It is important that participants plan to attend each session since the complexity of observation skills will increase with sequential sessions. Sessions will be held at the Berkshire Museum or Clark Art Institute galleries. (Site schedule to be announced at signup.) REGISTRATION IS LIMITED TO 10. Selection is by lottery. See page 14 for lottery directions.

Herb Diamond, Professor of Medicine, University of Pittsburgh; Chairman Emeritus, Department of Medicine, Western Pennsylvania Hospital; collector of American modernist and early American abstract art for more than 25 years; experience in teaching observational skills to medical students and residents; OLLI lecturer on early American abstract art, Carnegie Mellon University.

Jock Brooks, M.A., Columbia University; retired Associate Director, Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute; Educator, National Gallery of Art, Washington, DC; Senior Examiner, American Association of Museums; frequent OLLI instructor.

As readers, we often focus on plot and theme, but the author’s way of telling is just as important. Rhetoric, sequencing, and structure are the elements that distinguish great fiction and create a unique story. To understand the workings of this is to better understand our own ways of telling and the power of narrative in every communication we have. We will read some first-rate fiction in this class with an emphasis on how narrative works: not just what is said, but how it is said. Readings are from Kafka, García Márquez, Cervantes, Austen, and Zweig, and you may view one feature-length film. Building and room location will be provided prior to the start of classes.

Leyla Rouhi, Ph.D., Harvard University; Preston S. Parish ’41 Third Century Professor of Romance Languages, Williams College; also teaches comparative literature; areas of expertise include early modern Iberia, Cervantes, and the Baroque literature of Spain, as well as translation studies.

Suggested Readings: Gabriel García Márquez, No One Writes to the Colonel; Jane Austen, Northanger Abbey; Franz Kafka, Penal Colony and Other Stories; Miguel de Cervantes, Exemplary Novels; Stefan Zweig, Chess Story. The film A Separation is on Netflix and other streaming services and available in public libraries; the instructor can also loan out the DVD.

In this five-session course, we will explore music in its many forms from the 20th century to the present. Building and room location will be provided prior to the start of classes.

APRIL 20 • Text and Music in Contemporary Composition

Zachary Wadsworth, D.M.A., Cornell University; Assistant Professor of Music at Williams College; compositions heard in venues around the world; among international awards, “Out of the South Cometh the Whirlwind” was performed at Westminster Abbey in presence of Queen Elizabeth II; Douglas Moore Fellowship for American Opera; residencies at Metropolitan Opera and Santa Fe Opera; Carnegie Hall debut in 2014.

(Wednesday’s schedule continues on page 11)

THURSDAY

BIRDING IN THE BERKSHIRES LOTTERY

Have you always wanted to learn about birds but never found the time? Here is your opportunity. REGISTRATION IS LIMITED TO 12. Selection is by lottery. See page 14 for lottery directions.

SESSION 1 • 10 to 11:30 a.m. Meet at Berkshire Community College (BCC) main campus, General Bartlett Room, Susan B. Anthony Center, to discuss birds and their identification, songs, habitat preferences, and the use of optics in birding. Designed for beginning- and intermediate-level birders.

SESSIONS 2 THROUGH 6 • 8 to 9:30 a.m. Meet at designated outdoor locations to practice birding techniques and birdsong identification. This involves moderate walking. If it rains, the class will be held indoors at BCC from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Ed Neumuth, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania; private practice 1970–2005; led field trips for the Trustees of Reservations and Mass. Audubon; conducts breeding-bird surveys for the Department of the Interior; past president, Hoffmann Bird Club; frequent OLLI instructor.

PASSIONATE SONG: The Story of King David

Of all the heroes of the Hebrew bible, King David was the most glorious and the most tragic. A man of great passion, a gifted musician, a warrior without peer, he was also a man burdened by doubt and grief and betrayed by those closest to him. David’s timeless story has inspired some of the world’s greatest artists, composers, and authors for millennia, and in this class we will study David within a historical context, with special attention to Jewish cultural sources. All texts will be in English, and sessions will be enhanced by multimedia presentations.
Rabbi Josh Breindel, Rabbinical Ordination, Master of Jewish Studies, Master of Jewish Education, Hebrew College, Newton, Mass.; Rabbi, Temple Anshe Amunim, Pittsfield; former President, Pittsfield Area Council of Congregations (PACC); presentations throughout New England on Jewish and religious themes; frequent OLLI instructor.

THE GARDEN MOTIF IN LITERATURE
TH103

The natural world, and especially the carefully controlled natural world of the garden, has been a motif in literature all the way back to the ancient Greeks. We will study garden imagery from various psychological perspectives in such wide-ranging works as Oedipus Rex, The Secret Garden, Arcadia, and “In Search of Our Mothers’ Gardens.” Supplementing the literature will be representative works of Arcadian, Renaissance, Neoclassical, Romantic, and Modern paintings.

Wende Greenberg, Ph.D. in English Literature, Drew University; taught English for more than 40 years; instructor of writing analysis, European literature, and journalism at high school and college levels.

Suggested Readings: Alice Walker, “In Search of Our Mothers’ Gardens” (essay); Frances Hodgson Burnett, The Secret Garden; Sophocles, Three Theban Plays: Antigone, Oedipus the King, Oedipus at Colonus, translated by Robert Fagles; Tom Stoppard, Arcadia.

KUBRICK COUNTRY
TH104

This class will explore the methods, techniques, and cinematic approach of legendary director Stanley Kubrick. Known as much for the “myths” surrounding his work habits as his iconic films, Kubrick developed a unique approach to the director as “auteur.” As he put it, “I have no fixed ideas about wanting to make films in particular categories—westerns, war films, and so on. I would like to make a film that gave a feeling of the times … I would like to make that more than anything else, and it’s probably going to be the hardest film to make.” Kubrick made “that film” each time, creating a brilliant cinematic landscape we call “Kubrick Country.”

Dan Valenti, M.A. in Journalism, Newhouse School of Public Communications, Syracuse University; broadcaster, educator, and author of 18 books, countless essays and articles, and thousands of radio and TV broadcasts; co-wrote screenplay and novel with Lee Ermey, who played Gunnery Sgt. Hartman in Kubrick’s Full Metal Jacket, which led to Kubrick considering the work for a follow-up to the film; currently produces daily blog Planet Valenti for Európolis Management; adjunct faculty member at BCC, English Department.

WATCHING DANCE WITH A DANCER’S EYE
TH105

Class members will learn useful observation skills for watching dance performances in order to discern excellence and artistry to better enjoy the experience. We will watch video performances of some very good and very poor dance programs to become more familiar with successful choreography and how it expresses the music and intention of the choreographer.

Megan Reisel, Certified Laban/Bartenieff Movement Analyst (CMLA) with two degrees in Dance from Cal-Arts and UCLA, where she did a master’s program in pedagogy and dance ethnography; worked professionally as a choreographer and movement coach; currently runs her own studio as a movement therapist at Kinesphere Studio in Lee.
ENRICHING YOUR MODERN ART EXPERIENCE
F101

Explore modern art at the Frelinghuysen Morris House & Studio (FMH&S) in Lenox with director Kinney Frelinghuysen, artist and nephew of Suzy Frelinghuysen and George L. K. Morris. He will guide and enrich your understanding and enjoyment of modern and abstract art using the priceless collection at FMH&S, slides, hands-on exercises, and behind-the-scenes peeks at New England’s first Modernist structure.

REGISTRATION IS LIMITED TO 25.

APRIL 29 • How to Look at Paintings – Feel intimidated by abstract art? Know Picasso is famous but don’t know why? Using Cubist masters, we will look at the language of abstraction and learn how to decode it. The instructor will use slides and original material to facilitate the modern art viewing experience. (Held in classroom)

MAY 6 • Color Workshop – We will learn how to view modern art through the doorway of color. Basic principles of color are touched on briefly in a house tour. Later, in the studio, we will employ interactive exhibits using iPads or colored-paper puzzles to digitally or manually compose colors in templates of the artwork we’ve seen. (Held in house and studio)

MAY 13 • Shape Workshop – To learn how the brain “reads” shape as artistic vocabulary when viewing art and architecture, we will do simple warm-up and contour exercises. Then, participants can use iPads or custom cardboard puzzles to experiment with composition. (Held in classroom)

MAY 20 • Exercises in Color and Shape…and Coffee – Mix paint colors and/or colored paper and shapes to experience the process behind creating modern art. Preprinted color diagrams, silk-screened colored paper, and paints will be provided. Feel free to bring in an example of an artwork for discussion over coffee in the Guest House—a private art-filled apartment on the grounds of the estate used for housing visiting scholars and lecturers. (Held in classroom and Guest House)

Kinney Frelinghuysen, Bowdoin College, École des Beaux-Arts, Paris; Director of Frelinghuysen Morris House & Studio.
